

Offering Assistance to Seniors Who are Relocating

Moving is often difficult, but moving later in life can present its own set of challenges. Our services honor the uniqueness of each individual's juncture in life by managing the transition in a sensitive, respectful and efficient manner.

Whether you are moving to a smaller house, apartment, retirement community or assisted living residence, an extra set of hands may be needed...or you may wish to be in the director's seat and let us handle all of the details.

As each move is unique, each of our services can stand alone or be used collectively.

Let's Get Moving! will handle your treasured items with care throughout the transition. We know that the "smallest thing" is often the most valued and we strive to listen and exceed your expectations.

Don't assume that your family can or cannot help. Talk with them and know that there is an affordable resource available to assist with your transition, if so needed.

At Let's Get Moving! we are prepared to help a little or a lot. You and your family make the choice.

Each of our services provide structure and continuity to the overall transition. Most importantly, our services are delivered with a gentle balance of respect and assistance.

At
Let's Get Moving!
we offer the following services:

We respect the generation that helped raise us...in turn, we strive to earn your respect.

We're here to get you there...
